

Where it all started for me...Hope for better future in Africa.

The image on the left is my brother Youssou who thought me the game of basketball. This court is actually a club team named Jaaraf who produced Pro A France's leading scorer, Maleye Ndoye and NCAA Champion at UCONN, Souleymane Wane. I am an alumni and a product of this court. I have been player of the year twice before coming to the United States. Under better circumstances, maybe I could have had a chance to play at the professional level. The lack of a correct nutritional system and having played on outdoor courts caused me to have many injuries and short career in sports. This is driving me to go back and make a difference.

F.A.C.E.

Fundamentals Athletics Culture Education